STATEMENT BY THE PREMIER, MR DUNSTAN, FOR SOUTHERN CROSS HOMES APPEAL.

28.9.73

The provision of proper services for the aged is one of the important tasks of Governments. It is also a community responsibility.

There are 145,000 aged people in this State and it should be a concern of all of us to see that they are able to live full satisfying lives in retirement. This is why I am delighted to learn of the efforts of Southern Cross Homes.

Their plans for the proposed project are imaginative, go beyond the supply of housing, and are designed to incorporate all the features essential to making their Centre a real community.

I support the Southern Cross Homes project with the utmost enthusiasm, and hope all South Australians will do so.
